Capex to cater further growth: Indian PVC market is growing at 7-8% and expected to be INR 200 bn market in next 3-4 years. PVC pipe demand will driven by various government initiatives like Pradhan Mantri Krishi Sinchai Yojna, Swachh bharat abhiyan, Housing for all. Skipper plans to expand its PVC pipes capacity multifold to 100,000 tpa from present 20,000 tpa by FY18. The company is adopting asset light model by leasing the land, in turn reducing capex requirement by 40%, faster entry in new markets and improved return ratios. The company plans to keep the debt at same level despite massive capacity expansion, which will help in improving return ratios.

Cost Advantage due to, location and integrated business model: Skipper has complete value chain control from angles to tower production to fasteners to EPC resulting in control of about 80% of the cost on any tower line. The company has done backward integration through angle rolling which is the main raw material for towers and is also horizontally integrated with manufacturing of fasteners and accessories for towers. The plant location in Eastern India allows lowest cost access to major raw material, steel billets, which is mainly procured from SAIL's Durgapur plant, less than 200 km away. This results in transportation costs of INR 450-500 /MT, against the industry average of INR 2,000. This logistic cost works out to a cost benefit of around 200 bps.

Valuation & Outlook: We believe with increased investment plans of government, favorable regulatory policies, increased private sector participation provides opportunities to the company to scale-up the business. On a consolidated basis we are expecting EBITDA Margin to stabilize between 13-14%. The company generates higher margins compared to peers due to location advantage and integrated business model. Robust order book provides revenue visibility in T&D business; and multifold expansion in PVC business on a pan India level provides scalable growth opportunities, outcome of which will be seen in coming years. We remain positive on Skipper Ltd. and are working on detail numbers. At CMP of INR 153, the company trades at P/E of 16.91x its trailing EPS of INR 9.05.
